NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Latest dispatches from the fever stricken South show that the disease is spreading again with much suffering in some of the afflicted communities. Everybody in Holly Springs is supported by the Relief Committee, and in New Orleans forty-five thousand people are said to be dependent on charity in consequence of the plague. The total number of deaths reported from principal places for the past 24 hours is 258 and total number of new cases nearly 600. As to Governor Hampton's Plan.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Ramm says he never received a direct proposition from Governor Wade Hampton looking to the collection of internal revenue for the Government by the State authorities of South Carolina, as has been so generally published. No correspondence has passed between the authorities here and Governor Hampton regarding the matter. Governor

Hampton, in a conversation with special agent Chapman and District Attorney Northrup, did discuss the practicability of the scheme, and at his suggestion those officers wrote to Commissioner Ramm about it. The matter was regarded as so absurd on its face that no serious consideration was given to it.

A CHAPTER OF CRIME.

National Associated Press to the Star.

TRAFFIC IN HUMAN BODIES.

BRIDGEPORT, CT., Oct. 3.—The hearing in the Weinbrecker murder case was resumed here yesterday. Jailer Wells refused to testify, and he was arrested for contempt. Mr. Osrael, correspondent of the New York Herald, was subpoenaed as a witness, but said, during recess, he would refuse to testify, basing his refusal on advice from New York. The most startling incident was the production of a letter written by the woman Alexander to Dr. Sanford, proposing the sale of a human body and the answer thereto, containing a refusal to buy. There is no doubt concerning the genuineness of the letters. Dr. Sanford testified to being a physician and professor of anatomy at Yale College. During six months proposals were made to him to buy a human body. Did not see the body.

The woman Alexander offered it for $25, and on his refusal to buy it without proper certificates as to her right to sell, she told a story that two men were quarreling at her door, and of them being killed, was thrown in her yard. She put the body in a barrel and was trying to sell it. He then advised the woman to make the whole affair known to the authorities. This affair happened in the latter part of July.

Dr. Young of Bridgeport, testified that about May last, a woman came to his office and wished to sell him her body, but he said that she was in great need and wanted money. He refusing to enter into any such an agreement, she asked the address of a doctor who might want human bodies. He gave her the address of Dr. Sanford, of New Haven, saying, however, he doubted his buying any such property.

ASSASSINATION AT A GREENBACK MEETING.

BURLINGTON, IA., Oct. 3.—This city was thrown into a nervous excitement last night over the attempted murder of the J. Raper, Chief of Police, by an unknown man without the slightest provocation. The Greenback meeting was in progress in front of the Barrett House, and Mr. Raper and Mayor Adams were standing on the opposite street engaged in conversation, when a middle-aged man, apparently a tramp, approached to within a few feet, drew a pistol and fired. The ball passed over Adams' shoulder, striking Raper in the mouth, inflicting a painful, but not dangerous, wound. After firing, the would-be assassin escaped.

DEATH AND DISASTER.

THE CLERK WHO DESERVES A MEDAL.

ONEIDA, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Yesterday afternoon Louis Myers, druggist, sent his clerk to draw some alcohol. Having no light he struck a match to see if the measure was full, when the alcohol ignited. He ran back to tell Mr. Myers, who went into the room just as the barrel exploded, and in an instant was in a mass of flames. He ran out on the walk and the bystanders extinguished the flames on him. Mr. Myers, although very badly burned, will probably recover. The building was partially destroyed, together with the stock.

CONGRATULATING CONDON.

His Interview With the President.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Edward O'Meara congratulated Condon yesterday evening called upon President Hayes for the purpose of personally thanking him for the warm interest he had taken in his case.

The President received him very cordially, and congratulated him upon his release, saying he was very sorry Mr. Condon's father had not lived long enough to see his happiness.

Mr. Condon said he did not consider the action taken by the administration and by Congress was in consequence of any individual merit of his own, but because of the principle involved.

The President assured him of his best wishes for his success in his new start in life and expressed the hope that his long course of suffering had not permanently injured his constitution.

Condon will start to-morrow for Cincinnati, where the City Council is preparing a reception for him.

It was composed mainly of the orators and doctrinaires, and no theory of a practicable nature was proposed in the interest of peace. The members frequently disputed with each other, some of them insisting that the only road to peace laid through a universal war having for its object the abolition of all kings and of all armies, while others held that peace would be secured if the workingmen of each country would solemnly agree never to join the army under any condition and suffer death rather than take up arms.
